

Vancouver, British Columbia,
Wednesday, October 16th, 1935

Dear Mrs. Kleeman:

Your letter of the 9th of September has followed me out to Canada and has reached me in Vancouver. As a matter of fact, unless my plans are altered, my wife and I arrive in New York towards the end of this month, as we plan to sail on the "Berengaria" on November 1st. We shall telephone you as soon as we arrive, and I hope that we shall have time for luncheon or dinner together.

I am so glad you like my book, but I am afraid the copy of "Gracious Lady" has not reached me. Perhaps we shall repair that damage in New York.

With kind regards.

Sincerely,

A. Beverley Baxter
